Our Camping Must Haves for Teardrop Trailer Camping

The face of camping has changed over the past few years. People are embracing the teardrop trailer life like never before, with many abandoning their traditional lifestyles altogether for living the nomad life, while still holding down their jobs and other responsibilities.

Whether you are a part-time or full-time camper, a traveling lifestyle is more doable than ever, especially with these hot new products that will take your camping experience to the next level.

Goal Zero Yeti 500X Portable Power Station

With a new design that packs 20% more power into a 20% smaller and lighter shell, this power station will keep your small to medium size devices and appliances humming on your next adventure. The Yeti will power a broad range of devices, from cell phones and computers to portable refrigerators.

Keep your teardrop camper connected with a high-speed charging solution that powers up devices in a fraction of the time and makes boondocking and going off grid a breeze when paired with our solar panels.

ICECO JP30 Portable Care 12v Refrigerator/Freezer

If coolers make you drool, your tongue will wag over this portable refrigerator. It comes with free accessories, such as an insulated cover, an extension cord, and a 12/24V DC and 110/240 AC power cord. While it may look like a cooler, this refrigerator/freezer can maintain temperatures from -7°F ~ 50°F (-22°C ~ +10°C) and 50°F (-22°C ~ +10°C).

No ice needed in this certified high-quality product featuring built in LED lighting for great visibility during the night, and a removable basket for maximum organization. Most of these will fit in the galley of your Colorado Teardrop trailer, too.

Everest Two Burner Camp Cooking Stove

Camping foodies will flip over this two-burner camp cooking set-up that boasts two high-pressure BTU burners, a matchless ignition system, and a locking lid carry handle that allows you to take the unit anywhere. A nickel-coated steel grate is strong enough to hold the heavy pots, griddles, and skillets of the most ambitious camping chefs.

While small enough for efficient packing, this camp cooking stove packs enough heat to ensure a great cook on meals prepared outdoors.

Camp Chef Sequoia Fire Pit

As dry conditions prevail across the country, many campers are turning to this portable fire pit to ensure a cozy night around the fire where traditional campfires have been banned due to fire danger. A propane-powered burner produces a smokeless flame and comes with 12 pounds of lava rock, a fuel regulator and a 5-foot hose (not to mention 2 extendable roasting sticks for those marshmallows!).

The pit burns clean, proving it to be a much safer and environmentally friendly option than a traditional fire pit.

More Popular than Ever

There's a reason teardrop trailer life is becoming more popular than it's ever been. New technology allows us to get away while still carrying on with our day-to-day lives. The season is just beginning, so gather up your goods and hit the road with one or all of these camping enhancing products (that also happen to make great Mother's and Father's Day gifts!).
